

Theme and Legacy: Course Mojo Lesson 6 + Closing the Play

The Diary of Anne Frank, Act II, Scenes 3–5, pp. 766–778 (Prather pp. 86–101)
· Day 2 Tone and Mood Maps · Standards 8.T.T.1.c · 8.T.SS.2.a · 8.T.C.1.a

ESSENTIAL QUESTION

How does the contrast between Anne's tone and the mood of the final scene develop the theme of the play?

LEARNING TARGET

I can develop an arguable theme and explain how the contrast between Anne's tone and the mood of the final scene supports that theme using specific evidence.

THE DISTINCTION · POST IT, KEEP IT UP ALL PERIOD

TOPIC ≠ PLOT SUMMARY ≠ ADVICE ≠ THEME. A theme is an arguable sentence about life or people beyond this one play, developed by the text and proved with evidence. tone + mood → contrast → theme. The sorting question all period: "Is that a topic, advice, or an arguable idea?"

RUN OF SHOW · 80 MINUTES · COURSE MOJO PROTECTED

0–5	Timed Do Now · real-Anne film twice + silent write	p. 1 · Box 01	Slide 2
5–10	Go over the Do Now · legacy · retrieve Tuesday's contrast · post the question	p. 1 · Box 01 · Day 2 map	Slides 3–4
10–16	Model the Theme Ladder · theme vs. moral · contrast → theme	pp. 1–2 · Box 02	Slides 5–6
16–20	★ LEAF scholar think-aloud → second scholar builds/revises/challenges	p. 2 · purple strip	Slide 7
20–25	Scholars build + test their own theme · chart 2–3 candidates	p. 2 · theme test	Slide 8
25–35	Closing the Play choice board (10 min)	p. 3 · Box 03	Slide 9
35–45	Course Mojo Part A · partners select evidence from Day 2 maps	p. 4 · Box 04 plan	Slide 10
45–52	Part B · whole-class discussion → 3-Read Protocol	p. 4 · Target Task	Slide 10
52–65	Independent Target Task (silent)	pp. 4–5 · response	Slide 11
65–71	Exit ticket (independent, protected, collected)	p. 5 · Box 05	Slide 12
71–75	Legacy share · 4–5 volunteers, no commentary	—	Slide 12
75–80	Preview Night · collect · pack-up · buffer	—	Slide 12

Running long? Cut or move choice-board time first (unfinished work becomes homework only if you direct it). Never cut the Theme Builder, the scholar think-aloud, Course Mojo, the independent Target Task, or the exit ticket.

★ LEAF ACTION STEP · PLANNED SCHOLAR THINK-ALOUD

When: after you model the Theme Ladder and contrast → theme, before scholars build their own (16–20). Moment: the weak candidate “Never give up hope.” Protocol: 30–45 sec silent think → one scholar: First I... Then I noticed... So I decided... Because... → a second scholar builds / revises / challenges → release. Press, don’t answer: “Is that a topic, advice, or an arguable idea?” · “Does it apply beyond Anne?” · “Could a reasonable person disagree?” · “Can Tuesday’s evidence support it?”

MILESTONES ALIGNMENT · BRIEF

No separate argument task today. Course Mojo already practices it: claim = the arguable theme / analytical answer, evidence = precise lines from the play, reasoning = how the tone/mood contrast develops the theme. Trait 1: focused, logically developed response. Trait 2: relevant evidence + elaboration.

WHAT CHANGED FROM PRATHER (AND WHY)

Prather’s content, Target Task, and sequence are kept. Choice board 15 → 10 min so the 30-minute Mojo block stays whole. Prather’s 10-minute opener is split into the 5-minute timed Do Now + a real 5-minute debrief. A planned scholar think-aloud is added after the ladder model (LEAF). Page references use this edition (Prather pp. 86–101 = pp. 766–778; Prather p. 101 = p. 778). Handouts 3.1–3.3 are combined into one 5-page packet with large print and open answer boxes. Course Mojo’s Driving Questions and Criteria for Teachers live on the platform and are not reproduced here.

PREP CHECKLIST

- ☐ Cue “Anne Frank: the only existing film images” full screen, sound checked. ADD VIDEO LINK TO SLIDE 2
- ☐ Day 2 packets back on desks: scholars need p. 2, the Tone and Mood Map
- ☐ Tuesday’s THEME board still up + chart paper beside it for today’s candidates
- ☐ Course Mojo Lesson 6 open; logins ready
- ☐ Partners set from Tuesday’s exit-ticket sort: shaky tone/mood with solid
- ☐ Pick your think-aloud scholar + a backup
- ☐ Print single-sided: the exit ticket comes off p. 5 · visible timer

PRATHER → THIS EDITION

Text segment Prather pp. 86–101 = pp. 766–778 (Act II, Scenes 3–5), exactly as mapped Tuesday. No new reading today.

Target Task Prather “(p. 101)” = p. 778, Anne’s final voice-over. The packet prints p. 778.

Projecting? Act II printed page = PDF page + 700 (p. 778 = PDF p. 78).

THEME KEY · ACCEPT ANY ARGUABLE SENTENCE THE CONTRAST CAN PROVE

Prather’s model: “The playwrights argue that hope is both precious and unbearably fragile in the face of evil.” · Prather’s stronger example: “The playwrights suggest that hope survives even those it cannot save.” PRATHER

Not yet: “hope” (topic) · “Never give up hope.” (advice / bumper sticker) · “Anne stays hopeful even though they are captured.” (plot summary).

Don’t crown one correct theme. Leave at least two viable candidates posted for Mojo.

EVIDENCE KEY · FROM TUESDAY’S MAP · SCHOLARS SELECT, THEY DON’T SEARCH

Row M · p. 778	Anne’s voice-over: “In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart.”	Tone: hopeful / defiant. Mood: devastating. Mr. Frank has just said, “She’d been in Belsen with Anne... I know now.” (p. 778)
p. 778	Mr. Frank: “She puts me to shame.” [They are silent.]	Staging: the silence lets the gap land on the audience.
Row 4 · p. 777	“Good-bye for a while... because some day I hope...” [Her voice stops abruptly.]	Tone: calm, hopeful. Mood: devastating; the crash and the cut-off voice.
★ p. 777	Mr. Frank: “It seems strange to say this, that anyone could be happy in a concentration camp...”	His tone, not Anne’s: tender, bittersweet. Mood: heartbreaking.
p. 776	Anne: “I still believe, in spite of everything, that people are really good at heart.” → the cars arrive.	The same belief, said right before the arrest.
p. 776	Mr. Frank: “For the past two years we have lived in fear. Now we can live in hope.”	His tone. The pounding below sets the mood.
Rows 2–3	p. 772 voice-over after the invasion news · pp. 774–775 Anne comforts Peter	Hopeful tone against what the audience already knows.

MISCONCEPTIONS → CLARIFY (ASK BEFORE YOU RESCUE)

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Topic = theme: "The theme is hope." | "That is the topic. What does the play SAY about hope?" |
| 2 Moral / advice = theme: "Never give up." | "That is advice. What idea about people or life is the play actually developing?" → "Can your Tuesday evidence prove it?" |
| 3 Plot summary = theme: "Anne stays hopeful even though they are captured." | "That tells me what happens in this play. How can we turn that into an idea about people beyond Anne?" |
| 4 Names tone + mood, then stops. | "You told me the contrast. The question asks what the contrast DEVELOPS. So what idea does putting those two together create?" |
| 5 Theme with no evidence. | "Could you point to Tuesday's map and prove that theme? If not, revise it." |
| 6 Reasoning repeats the evidence. | "You told me what the line says. How does that line help develop your theme?" |

BRIGGS CHECKS · MOJO PART A

1 Tone: "What exact word proves her attitude?" · 2 Mood: "What does the audience know here?" · 3 Develop: "You named tone and mood. What does the contrast DEVELOP?" · 4 Fit: "Which theme candidate actually fits this evidence?" · 5 Strongest: "Which piece of evidence is strongest?"

WHEN A SCHOLAR STRUGGLES

"Talk me through what you know so far." → "What did you notice first?" → "Which part of your evidence is doing the most work?" → "What idea about people does that contrast point toward?" → then clarify if you need to.

MOREHOUSE · SAME PACKET, SAME ENDPOINT

Built into the universal packet: the printed ladder model, the topic / plot / advice ≠ theme chips, page cues on p. 3, starter stems on Options 2 and 3, the Part A planning boxes, and Prather's frame ("Need a start?") on p. 4. Live moves: pair shaky tone/mood scholars with distinction-solid partners for Part A; sit with one scholar for Step 2 → Step 3 of the ladder; offer pre-selected evidence (p. 778 voice-over, p. 778 Mr. Frank, p. 777 good-bye) if needed. Never write the theme for them. The final response stays independent.

PRECISION VOCABULARY PRATHER

theme · resolution · legacy · optimism · dramatic irony, when the audience knows more than a character does

0-5 MIN

TIMED DO NOW · THE REAL ANNE

Prather opener step 1 · watch twice: once to see, once to notice · five independent minutes, then a real debrief

PACKET P. 1 · BOX 01

SLIDE 2

PACKET PAGE 1 · BOX 01

DAY 1: Anne + Peter DAY 2: Tone + Mood DAY 3: Theme + Legacy DAY 4: Entering Night DAY 5: Writing Synthesis DAY 3

THEME AND LEGACY: CLOSING THE PLAY

The Diary of Anne Frank · Act II, Scenes 3-5 · pp. 766-778 · plus your Day 2 Tone and Mood Map

NAME DATE CLASS

LEARNING TARGET
I can develop an arguable theme and explain how the contrast between Anne's tone and the mood of the final scene supports that theme using specific evidence.

01 DO NOW · THE REAL ANNE 5 MIN

Watch twice: once to see, once to notice. Then write silently.

You just finished the play. Now you are seeing the real girl, in 1941.
What does it change to see the real Anne Frank after finishing the play?

MY RESPONSE

LEGACY = what a person leaves behind that continues to matter after they are gone

02 THEME BUILDER DAY 2 MAP

TOPIC # THEME
one word: hope

ADVICE # THEME
"Never give up."

PLOT SUMMARY # THEME
what happens in this play: "Anne stays hopeful even though they are captured."

THEME
an arguable idea about life or people beyond this one play, developed by the text and proved with evidence

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 1 OF 5

GET THEM HERE Packets on desks, p. 1. Slide 2 up. Clip "Anne Frank: the only existing film images" cued full screen, sound checked. Timer at 5:00. Day 2 packets in folders or face down; you need the map at 5:00.

SAY WHILE DOING

(Slide 2) "Alright, look here. Yesterday we finished the play. Before we talk about anything, I want you to see her. We're going to watch this twice. The first time, just see. Pencils down." Start the timer. Play it once.

THEN

"Again. This time, notice. What do you see that you missed the first time?" Play it again.

THEN

"Pencils. Box 01. What does it change to see the real Anne Frank after finishing the play? Silent, on your own."

SCHOLARS DO

Watch twice without writing (about 2 minutes), then write silently in Box 01 until the timer ends.

KEEP IT SHORT

The clip is one minute of the real girl; it recalibrates the room from literary exercise to human stakes. Keep commentary minimal and let the image work. This is not a history lecture. PRATHER

CHECK

Circulate. Pencils moving. Look for a specific detail ("she's just a girl leaning out a window"), not just "it's sad." When you see one: "Good. Put that on your paper."

IF STALLED

"What did you notice the second time? Start there." · "Before today, Anne was a character in a play. What is she now?"

MOVE ON WHEN

The timer hits 0. Don't extend; the debrief is where the teaching happens.

TRANSITION

(Slide 3) "Pencils down for a second. I want to hear a few of you. Just one line."

5-10 MIN

GO OVER THE DO NOW · LEGACY · RETRIEVE TUESDAY

Prather opener steps 2-3 · hear thinking, name legacy, retrieve the tone/mood contrast, post the question

PACKET P. 1 · BOX 01 + DAY 2 MAP

SLIDES 3-4

PACKET PAGE 1 · LEGACY STRIP UNDER BOX 01

DAY 1: Anne + Peter DAY 2: Tone + Mood DAY 3: Theme + Legacy DAY 4: Entering Night DAY 5: Writing Synthesis DAY 3

THEME AND LEGACY: CLOSING THE PLAY

The Diary of Anne Frank · Act II, Scenes 3-5 · pp. 766-778 · plus your Day 2 Tone and Mood Map

NAME _____ DATE _____ CLASS _____

LEARNING TARGET
I can develop an arguable theme and explain how the contrast between Anne's tone and the mood of the final scene supports that theme using specific evidence.

01 DO NOW · THE REAL ANNE 5 MIN
Watch twice: once to see, once to notice. Then write silently.
You just finished the play. Now you are seeing the real girl, in 1941.
What does it change to see the real Anne Frank after finishing the play?

MY RESPONSE

LEGACY = what a person leaves behind that continues to matter after they are gone

02 THEME BUILDER DAY 2 MAP
Climb from a topic to an arguable theme. Use your Day 2 map as evidence.

TOPIC ≠ THEME
one word: hope

ADVICE ≠ THEME
"Never give up."

PLOT SUMMARY ≠ THEME
what happens in this play: "Anne stays hopeful even though they are captured."

THEME
an arguable idea about life or people beyond this one play, developed by the text and proved with evidence

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 1 OF 5

ASK "What does it change to see her?" Volunteers only, one line each. Take 2-3. PRATHER

LISTEN FOR She's real, not just a character. She was a regular kid doing a normal thing. Now the voice-over has a face. It makes the ending hurt more.

IF INCOMPLETE "It's sad." → "Say more. What lands differently now than when we read the play?"

SAY WHILE DOING

(Slide 3) "The play ends with her voice. This film is her face. Both are legacy: what remains and keeps speaking." PRATHER (point to the strip under Box 01) "Legacy is what a person leaves behind that continues to matter after they are gone. Hold onto that word. It's on your exit ticket."

RETRIEVE

(Slide 4) "Take out yesterday's Tone and Mood Map, page 2. Go to Row M." Cold call 2 scholars: "Restate the contrast in the final scene. Anne's tone is _____. The audience's mood is _____. What evidence did you use?"

PRATHER

LISTEN FOR Tone: hopeful or defiant, proved by "in spite of everything," "still believe," "really good at heart" (p. 778). Mood: devastating, because the audience knows she didn't survive: "She'd been in Belsen with Anne... I know now" (p. 778).

IF INCOMPLETE "Anne's tone is sad." → "Whose feeling is 'sad,' Anne's or ours? Show me her actual words." · Tone with no proof → "What exact word made you choose that?"

POST IT Write under THEME on Tuesday's board: How does that contrast develop the play's theme? PRATHER

MOVE ON WHEN Two scholars restate the contrast accurately with evidence; that confirms readiness for Mojo. PRATHER If both stall, restate it yourself in one sentence and move. Don't reteach Tuesday.

TRANSITION

(Slide 5) "You can name the contrast. Today's question is what that contrast is for. To answer it, you need to know what a theme actually is. Box 02."

PACKET PAGE 2 · BOX 02 · LADDER + DARK BAR

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

THE THEME LADDER	MODEL · WATCH MS. BRIGGS CLIMB	MY LADDER
1 · TOPIC one word	hope
2 · WHAT THE PLAY SAYS a sentence about the topic in this play	The play is about holding onto hope.
3 · ARGUABLE THEME a statement about life or people beyond this play	The playwrights argue that hope is both precious and unbearably fragile in the face of evil.

Anne's tone + the audience's MOOD → the CONTRAST → THEME
The theme lives in the collision.

SHOW YOUR THINKING · THINK FIRST, THEN SAY IT
Candidate: "Never give up hope." Is it a topic, advice, or an arguable idea? How would you turn it into a real theme statement?

FIRST I... THEN I NOTICED... SO I DECIDED... BECAUSE...

BUILD · REVISE · CHALLENGE "I would revise it to _____ because _____."

TEST MY STEP 3 THEME · CHECK ALL FOUR

☐ A reasonable person could disagree. ☐ It applies beyond this one play.

☐ Tuesday's tone/mood contrast can support it. ☐ It is an idea, not advice.

BACKUP CANDIDATE THEME

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 2 OF 5

GET THEM HERE Packet pp. 1–2, Box 02. Doc cam on your packet. Slide 5.

SAY WHILE DOING

(point to the chips above the ladder) "Three things that are not theme. A topic is one word. A plot summary tells me what happened. Advice tells me what to do. A theme is an arguable idea about life or people, beyond this one play, that the text develops and evidence can prove."

MODEL · CLIMB

"Step one, topic. One word: hope. That's what the play is about, not what it says. Step two, what the play says: 'The play is about holding onto hope.' Closer, but it's still only this play. Step three, I climb to an idea about people: 'The playwrights argue that hope is both precious and unbearably fragile in the face of evil.' PRATHER Somebody could disagree with that. That's how I know it's arguable."

THEME VS. MORAL

"'Never give up hope' is a bumper sticker. PRATHER That sounds nice, but nice is not enough. Can the text actually prove it? A theme needs complexity and evidence. Listen to this one: 'the playwrights suggest that hope survives even those it cannot save.' PRATHER That's a theme this text can actually evidence."

SCHOLARS DO Follow along in the model column. They don't fill in My Ladder yet.

CONTRAST → THEME

(Slide 6, point to the dark bar) "If Anne's hopeful tone stood alone, the theme would be simple. If the devastating mood stood alone, the theme would be despair. The playwrights force the two together, and the theme lives in that collision." PRATHER

ASK "What idea about people survives the contrast?" PRATHER Wait. Take one or two. Don't answer it yourself. "Hold that. Don't write it yet."

CHECK Eyes are on the model column; nobody is copying Prather's theme into My Ladder.

MOVE ON WHEN About 6 minutes. Keep it short; the scholar think-aloud is next.

TRANSITION

(Slide 7) "That was my climb. Now I want to hear yours. Purple strip, right under the dark bar."

PACKET PAGE 2 · SHOW YOUR THINKING

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

THE THEME LADDER	MODEL · WATCH MS. BRIGGS CLIMB	MY LADDER
1 · TOPIC one word	hope
2 · WHAT THE PLAY SAYS a sentence about the topic in this play	The play is about holding onto hope.
3 · ARGUABLE THEME a statement about life or people beyond this play	The playwrights argue that hope is both precious and unbearably fragile in the face of evil.

Anne's TONE + the audience's MOOD → the CONTRAST → THEME
The theme lives in the collision.

SHOW YOUR THINKING · THINK FIRST, THEN SAY IT
Candidate: "Never give up hope." Is it a topic, advice, or an arguable idea? How would you turn it into a real theme statement?

FIRST I...	THEN I NOTICED...	SO I DECIDED...	BECAUSE...
BUILD · REVISE · CHALLENGE "I would revise it to ____ because ____."

TEST MY STEP 3 THEME · CHECK ALL FOUR

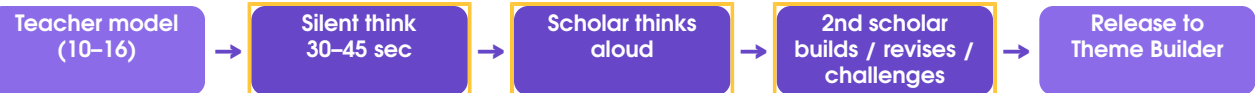

☐ A reasonable person could disagree.	☐ It applies beyond this one play.
☐ Tuesday's tone/mood contrast can support it.	☐ It is an idea, not advice.

BACKUP CANDIDATE THEME

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 2 OF 5

★ What an observer should see

The teacher models first, then scholars do the thinking out loud. The teacher presses with questions and doesn't supply the theme. A second scholar builds on, revises, or challenges the reasoning before release.

Before class: think-aloud scholar _____ · backup _____

1 · GET THEM HERE

Purple strip, p. 2. Slide 7. "Here's a candidate somebody might write: 'Never give up hope.' Read it with me."

2 · SILENT THINK

"Don't write. Don't talk. Is it a topic, advice, or an arguable idea? How would you turn it into a real theme? Thumb on your chest when you've got your 'First I...'" Wait the full 30–45 seconds. No cold call yet.

3 · SCHOLAR THINKS ALOUD

"[Name], talk us through how you would turn that into a real theme statement. Start with 'First I...'"

LISTEN FOR

"First I checked whether it was a topic, advice, or an idea, and it's advice because it tells you what to do. Then I noticed Anne never gave up, but it didn't save her. So I decided to make it about what hope does, not what you should do, because she says 'in spite of everything' and we know what happened."

PRESS, DON'T ANSWER

"Is that a topic, advice, or an arguable idea?" · "Does it apply beyond Anne?" · "Could a reasonable person disagree?" · "Can Tuesday's tone/mood evidence actually support it?" If they stall: "What did you notice first?" → "What part are you sure about?" Stay with the same scholar. Don't rescue.

4 · SECOND SCHOLAR

"Who can build on, revise, or challenge that theme statement?" Stem: "I would revise it to ____ because ____."

LISTEN FOR

A revision that adds complexity or ties it to evidence: "I'd revise it to 'hope can survive even when it can't save someone,' because Anne still believes in people and we just heard she died in Belsen." → "That's arguable, and Tuesday's map can prove it."

5 · RELEASE

"Good. That's the process I want running in your head: name what it is, push it past this one play, make sure somebody could disagree, then check it against your evidence. Your ladder. Go." Release immediately.

MOVE ON WHEN 4:00 hard stop.

TRANSITION

(Slide 8) "My Ladder column. Three steps, then test it. Three minutes."

PACKET PAGE 2 · THEME TEST + BACKUP

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

THE THEME LADDER	MODEL · WATCH MS. BRIGGS CLIMB	MY LADDER
1 · TOPIC one word	hope
2 · WHAT THE PLAY SAYS a sentence about the topic in this play	The play is about holding onto hope.
3 · ARGUABLE THEME a statement about life or people beyond this play	The playwrights argue that hope is both precious and unbearably fragile in the face of evil.

Anne's tone + the audience's MOOD → the CONTRAST → THEME
The theme lives in the collision.

SHOW YOUR THINKING · THINK FIRST, THEN SAY IT
Candidate: "Never give up hope." Is it a topic, advice, or an arguable idea? How would you turn it into a real theme statement?

FIRST I... THEN I NOTICED... SO I DECIDED... BECAUSE...

BUILD · REVISE · CHALLENGE "I would revise it to _____ because _____"

TEST MY STEP 3 THEME · CHECK ALL FOUR

☐ A reasonable person could disagree. ☐ It applies beyond this one play.

☐ Tuesday's tone/mood contrast can support it. ☐ It is an idea, not advice.

BACKUP CANDIDATE THEME

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 2 OF 5

WRITE / WORK · 3 MIN

Scholars fill My Ladder (topic → what the play says → arguable theme), check all four test boxes, and write a backup candidate. Day 2 map open beside it.

SAY WHILE DOING

"Go back to yesterday's map. What evidence do you already have? Your theme has to be something that map can prove."

CHECK

Step 3 is about life or people, not just Anne. Checked boxes are honest: if "Tuesday's contrast can support it" is checked, they can point to a row.

IF INCOMPLETE

Topic: "Okay, that's the topic. I need the theme." · Advice: "You gave me advice. Give me an idea about people." · Plot summary: "That tells me what happens in this play. How can we turn that into an idea about people beyond Anne?"

MOREHOUSE

Same ladder, same endpoint. Sit with one scholar for Step 2 → Step 3 only: "What does the play say about hope? Now take Anne's name out. Is it still true about people?" Let them say it before they write it. Don't write it for them.

CHART · 2 MIN

Take 2–3 scholar statements word for word onto the chart paper next to the THEME board. Test each one out loud (Slide 8): "Is it arguable? Is it about life beyond this play? Can the tone/mood contrast serve as its evidence?" PRATHER

LISTEN FOR

Arguable sentences supported by the contrast, not one-word topics or plot summaries. At least two candidates strong enough to write from.

PRATHER

DON'T

Don't crown one "correct" theme. Leave at least two viable candidates posted for Course Mojo. PRATHER

MOVE ON WHEN

Two strong candidates are posted, or 25:00.

TRANSITION

(Slide 9) "Those stay up. Before we analyze this ending in Course Mojo, I want you to sit with it for a few minutes. Page 3."

PACKET PAGE 3 · BOX 03

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

03 CLOSING THE PLAY · CHOICE BOARD 10 MIN
You have finished The Diary of Anne Frank. Choose ONE task.

EVERY OPTION MUST USE AT LEAST ONE EXACT LINE + PAGE NUMBER

1 FOUND POEM Arrange 6–10 exact lines or phrases from the ending into a poem that captures the contrast. STRETCH · CITE TWO LINES	2 TONE MAP Sketch hope rising and falling across the final scenes. Label each turning point with a quotation + page. STARTER STEM Hope rises on p. ____ when “____.” Hope falls on p. ____ because “____.”	3 SIX-WORD MEMOIRS Write three: one in Anne’s voice, one in Mr. Frank’s, one in the audience’s. Cite the line that inspired each. STARTER STEM Anne: ____ (six words) · Inspired by “____” (p. ____).
4 LETTER NEVER SENT Write a short letter from Peter or Margot in the annex’s final days, grounded in one cited line of the play.	5 DIRECTOR’S NOTE Write staging instructions for the final voice-over: lighting, sound, and where the audience should look. Justify each choice with the text. STRETCH · CITE TWO LINES	6 HEADLINE + LEDE Write the headline and first two sentences a 1947 reviewer might publish about this ending, quoting one line.

WHERE TO LOOK: your Day 2 Tone and Mood Map first. Then the ending: p. 772 invasion news · pp. 774–775 Anne and Peter · p. 776 the cars arrive · p. 777 “Good-bye for a while” · pp. 777–778 Scene 5, Mr. Frank returns

I CHOSE OPTION # MY EXACT LINE(S) + PAGE

MY WORK

10-MINUTE IN-CLASS TASK · FINISH FOR HOMEWORK ONLY IF DIRECTED

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 3 OF 5

GET THEM HERE Packet p. 3. Slide 9. Timer at 10:00. Day 2 map still open.

SAY WHILE DOING

“You have finished The Diary of Anne Frank. Before we analyze its theme in Course Mojo, choose ONE task and complete it in the next ten minutes. Every option must include at least one exact line from the play with a page number. PRATHER Your Day 2 map already has your lines. Start there.”

STEER QUIETLY

Stronger writers → Option 1 or 5, two cited lines. Scholars who need an easier entry → Option 2 or 3, with the starter stems. Same evidence requirement for everyone. PRATHER

SCHOLARS DO

Write the option number and the exact line(s) + page first, then work. Quiet and independent.

CHECK

Every product includes at least one exact quoted line with a page number. PRATHER “Where’s your line? What page?”

IF STALLED

“Which row on your map hit you hardest? Use that line.” Still blank at 28:00 → steer to Option 3.

PACE CALLS

28 “Your line and page should be written.” · 33 “Two minutes. Check your page number.” · 35 “Pencils down.”

TIME RULE

If class is behind, shorten this first. Unfinished choice boards become homework only if you direct it. Never take time from Course Mojo.

MOVE ON WHEN

35:00, or sooner if the room is done.

TRANSITION

(Slide 10) “Hold onto that feeling. Now we’re going to prove what this ending does. Course Mojo, Lesson 6. Page 4. Sit with your partner.”

COURSE MOJO PART A · PARTNER EVIDENCE SELECTION (1 OF 2)

35–45 MIN

Course Mojo Lesson 6 · protected 30-minute block begins · select from Tuesday, don't search again

PACKET P. 4 · BOX 04 + DAY 2 MAP

SLIDE 10

PACKET PAGE 4 · PART A PLANNING BOXES

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

COURSE MOJO · LESSON 6
Your Day 2 map is your evidence bank. Select the best evidence. don't start a new search. 30 MIN

TARGET TASK
At the very end of the play, we hear Anne say in a voice-over, "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart" (p. 778). What is Anne's tone in these lines? How does the contrast between her tone and the mood of the scene develop the theme of the play? Provide specific evidence from the text to support your answer.

☐ READ 1 · together. Follow along as we read it aloud. ☐ READ 2 · on your own. What is the prompt asking me to do? ☐ READ 3 · on your own. What evidence and skills do I need?

PART A · PARTNER PLANNING · TALK IT OUT TOGETHER, EACH OF YOU WRITES

ANNE'S TONE + PROOF · tone word + her exact words	MOOD + WHY · what the audience knows
THEME · arguable, from your Theme Builder (p. 2)
BEST EVIDENCE #1 · quote + p. ____	BEST EVIDENCE #2 · quote + p. ____

MY RESPONSE MUST HAVE
☐ A tone word I can defend + Anne's diction
☐ The mood + what the audience knows
☐ An arguable theme
☐ How the contrast develops the theme
☐ At least two cited pieces of evidence

MILESTONES CHECK
Claim: Is my theme arguable?
Evidence: Did I cite precise lines + pages?
Reasoning: Did I explain how the contrast develops the theme?

NEED A START? Anne's tone in her final lines is ____, shown by the words ____ (p. 778). The mood of the scene is ____ because the audience knows ____ (p. ____). This contrast develops the theme that ____.

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 4 OF 5

GET THEM HERE Partners seated (shaky ↔ solid, from Tuesday's exit-ticket sort). Course Mojo Lesson 6 open. Packet p. 4 and the Day 2 map side by side.

SAY WHILE DOING

(Slide 10) Read the Target Task aloud once so partners know where they're headed; the full 3-Read happens in Part B. "Your job is not to find ten new quotes. Your job is to select the evidence that best answers this question. Yesterday's map is your evidence bank. Talk it out together, but each of you writes."

SCHOLARS DO Partners fill the Part A boxes: Anne's tone + the diction that proves it · the mood + what the audience knows · the theme the contrast develops (from their Theme Builder or a posted candidate) · best evidence #1 and #2 with pages.

COURSE MOJO Use the Lesson 6 Driving Questions to guide discussion and the Criteria for Teachers to monitor and support. PRATHER These live on the Course Mojo platform; they are not reproduced in this packet.

BRIGGS CHECK 1 Tone: "What exact word proves her attitude?"

BRIGGS CHECK 2 Mood: "What does the audience know here?"

BRIGGS CHECK 3 Develop: "You named tone and mood. What does the contrast DEVELOP?"

BRIGGS CHECK 4 Fit: "Which theme candidate actually fits this evidence?"

BRIGGS CHECK 5 Strongest: "Which piece of evidence is strongest?"

PACE CALLS 39 "Tone and mood should be down." · 42 "You should be on your theme." · 44 "Pick your two best. Finish your sentence."

KEEP GOING What to say when a pair is stuck, the misconceptions, and Morehouse moves are on the next page.

PACKET PAGE 4 · PART A PLANNING BOXES

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

COURSE MOJO · LESSON 6
Your Day 2 map is your evidence bank. Select the best evidence; don't start a new search. 30 MIN

TARGET TASK
At the very end of the play, we hear Anne say in a voice-over, "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart" (p. 778). What is Anne's tone in these lines? How does the contrast between her tone and the mood of the scene develop the theme of the play? Provide specific evidence from the text to support your answer.

☐ READ 1 · together. Follow along as we read it aloud. ☐ READ 2 · on your own. What is the prompt asking me to do? ☐ READ 3 · on your own. What evidence and skills do I need?

PART A · PARTNER PLANNING · TALK IT OUT TOGETHER, EACH OF YOU WRITES

ANNE'S TONE + PROOF · tone word + her exact words	MOOD + WHY · what the audience knows
THEME · arguable, from your Theme Builder (p. 2)
BEST EVIDENCE #1 · quote + p. ____	BEST EVIDENCE #2 · quote + p. ____

MY RESPONSE MUST HAVE

- ☐ A tone word I can defend + Anne's diction
- ☐ The mood + what the audience knows
- ☐ An arguable theme
- ☐ How the contrast develops the theme
- ☐ At least two cited pieces of evidence

MILESTONES CHECK

Claim: Is my theme arguable?
Evidence: Did I cite precise lines + pages?
Reasoning: Did I explain how the contrast develops the theme?

NEED A START? Anne's tone in her final lines is ____, shown by the words ____ (p. 778). The mood of the scene is ____, because the audience knows ____ (p. ____). This contrast develops the theme that ____.

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 4 OF 5

WHEN STUCK Don't supply the answer. "Talk me through what you know so far." → "What did you notice first?" → "Which part of your evidence is doing the most work?" → "What idea about people does that contrast point toward?" → then clarify only if needed.

REDIRECT For partners stuck at description: "You have named the tone and the mood. The question asks what the contrast develops. Point to a candidate theme statement on the board and test it against your evidence." PRATHER

MISCONCEPTION 4 Tone + mood, then stops → "You named the contrast. Now tell me the so what. What idea does putting those two together create?"

MISCONCEPTION 5 Theme with no evidence → "Could you point to Tuesday's map and prove that theme? If not, revise it."

MISCONCEPTION 1–3 "The theme is hope." → "That is the topic. What does the play SAY about hope?" · "Never give up." → "That is advice. What idea about people is the play developing?" · Plot summary → "How can we turn that into an idea about people beyond Anne?"

VAGUE TONE "Happy" / "good" → "Can we be more precise? What KIND of hopeful?" Point them to Tuesday's word bank and the hopeful / defiant / naive strip.

MOREHOUSE Same boxes, same endpoint. If a pair stalls on tone, sit for one box: read the p. 778 voice-over together, then ask, "Which words show her attitude?" Let them say it, then write it. If needed, offer pre-selected evidence options to choose from (p. 778 voice-over · p. 778 Mr. Frank · p. 777 good-bye). The choosing and the theme stay theirs.

MOVE ON WHEN Most pairs have tone, mood, a theme, and two evidence picks. Don't wait for every box to be perfect; the discussion is next.

TRANSITION (Slide 10) "Pencils up. Eyes up here. Before anybody writes, I want to hear it."

PACKET PAGE 4 · TARGET TASK + 3 READS

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

04 COURSE MOJO · LESSON 6 30 MIN
Your Day 2 map is your evidence bank. Select the best evidence; don't start a new search.

TARGET TASK
At the very end of the play, we hear Anne say in a voice-over, "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good at heart" (p. 778). What is Anne's tone in these lines? How does the contrast between her tone and the mood of the scene develop the theme of the play? Provide specific evidence from the text to support your answer.

☐ READ 1 · together. Follow along as we read it aloud. ☐ READ 2 · on your own. What is the prompt asking me to do? ☐ READ 3 · on your own. What evidence and skills do I need?

PART A · PARTNER PLANNING · TALK IT OUT TOGETHER, EACH OF YOU WRITES

ANNE'S TONE + PROOF · tone word + her exact words	MOOD + WHY · what the audience knows

THEME · arguable, from your Theme Builder (p. 2)

BEST EVIDENCE #1 · quote + p. ____	BEST EVIDENCE #2 · quote + p. ____

MY RESPONSE MUST HAVE

- ☐ A tone word I can defend + Anne's diction
- ☐ The mood + what the audience knows
- ☐ An arguable theme
- ☐ How the contrast develops the theme
- ☐ At least two cited pieces of evidence

MILESTONES CHECK

Claim: Is my theme arguable?
Evidence: Did I cite precise lines + pages?
Reasoning: Did I explain how the contrast develops the theme?

NEED A START? Anne's tone in her final lines is ____, shown by the words ____ (p. 778). The mood of the scene is ____ because the audience knows ____ (p. ____). This contrast develops the theme that ____.

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 4 OF 5

DISCUSS · 5 MIN Facilitate rich whole-class discussion before writing. Press for three things in order. PRATHER

ASK · TONE "What is Anne's tone in her final lines? Give me a connotation-precise word, not 'good' or 'happy.'"

LISTEN FOR Hopeful or defiant, tied to "in spite of everything," "still believe," "really good at heart" (p. 778).

ASK · MOOD "What is the mood, and what does the audience know that makes us feel it?"

LISTEN FOR Devastating or heartbreaking: Mr. Frank has just told us she died in Belsen (p. 778); "Good-bye for a while" and the crash (p. 777). The audience knows more than Anne does (dramatic irony).

ASK · THEME "So what does the contrast develop? Say it as an arguable sentence."

IF INCOMPLETE "Okay, that's the topic. I need the theme." · "That sounds nice, but can the text actually prove it?" Don't accept a theme that isn't arguable yet.

PRATHER

3-READ · 2 MIN

Read 1: "Follow along." Read the Target Task aloud together. Read 2: "On your own. What is the prompt asking you to do? Check the box." Read 3: "Again, on your own. What evidence and skills do you need? Check the box." PRATHER

MILESTONES · 20 SEC

(point to the yellow box) "Claim is your arguable theme. Evidence is your precise lines. Reasoning explains how the contrast develops the theme. That's Trait 1 and Trait 2."

MOVE ON WHEN 52:00. Writing time is protected.

TRANSITION

(Slide 11) "This part is yours. Silent. Your plan is on page 4. Write in the box on page 5. Go."

PACKET PAGE 5 · RESPONSE BOX

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

MY RESPONSE · COURSE MOJO TARGET TASK

DONE EARLY? STRETCH: In 2–3 sentences, test an alternative theme against the same evidence. Which reading is stronger, and why?

----- CUT OR FOLD HERE ----- EXIT TICKET · ON YOUR OWN

05 · EXIT TICKET

NAME

THE THEME OF THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK IS... (AN ARGUABLE SENTENCE)

THE EVIDENCE THAT BEST DEVELOPS IT IS... (P. _____)

ANNE'S LEGACY, TO ME, IS...

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 5 OF 5

SAY WHILE DOING

"Thirteen minutes. Silent and on your own. Your claim is your theme. Two pieces of evidence with page numbers. After each one, explain how that line helps the contrast develop your theme." If your class submits on Course Mojo, scholars type their response there; p. 4 is the plan and p. 5 is the backup.

SCHOLARS DO

Write independently: a defensible tone word + Anne's diction · the scene's mood + what the audience knows (events / staging) · an arguable theme · how the contrast develops it · at least two cited pieces of evidence.

LOOK FOR

Responses name a defensible tone word tied to diction, establish the mood with audience knowledge, and state a theme as an arguable idea developed by the contrast, with at least two pieces of cited evidence. PRATHER

WHISPER ONLY

Misconception 6: "You told me what the line says. How does that line help develop your theme?" · Misconception 4: "You named the contrast. Now tell me the so what." · Misconception 5: "Could you point to Tuesday's map and prove that theme?"

MOREHOUSE

Prather's frame is printed under "Need a start?" Point to it; don't read it to them. Point back to their Part A boxes for evidence. The response stays independent, and the theme blank is theirs.

DONE EARLY

Stretch line on p. 5: test an alternative theme against the same evidence and explain which reading is stronger. PRATHER Optional at home: the play won the Pulitzer Prize in 1956; draft one sentence on why a devastated world might have needed this play's theme. PRATHER

PACE CALLS

57 "Tone and mood should be down." · 61 "You should be explaining how the contrast develops your theme." · 64 "Finish your sentence."

MOVE ON WHEN

65:00. Don't extend into the exit ticket.

TRANSITION

(Slide 12) "Pencils down. Find the dashed line on page 5. Exit ticket. On your own."

PACKET PAGE 5 · EXIT TICKET

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK DAY 3

MY RESPONSE · COURSE MOJO TARGET TASK

DONE EARLY? STRETCH: In 2–3 sentences, test an alternative theme against the same evidence. Which reading is stronger, and why?

CUT OR FOLD HERE · EXIT TICKET · ON YOUR OWN

05 · EXIT TICKET

NAME

THE THEME OF THE DIARY OF ANNE FRANK IS... (AN ARGUABLE SENTENCE)

THE EVIDENCE THAT BEST DEVELOPS IT IS... (P. _____)

ANNE'S LEGACY, TO ME, IS...

WEEK 9 · DAY 3 · ENCOUNTERING EVIL · GRADE 8 ELA · MS. BRIGGS PAGE 5 OF 5

65–71 · SAY

“Three sentences. Your theme has to be an arguable sentence, not a topic and not advice. Silent, on your own.”

SCHOLARS DO

Complete the exit ticket alone. Day 2 map and pp. 4–5 can stay open; no partner talk.

CHECK

Don't coach the answers. You're only checking that pencils are moving.

LOOK FOR

Theme sentences stay arguable and evidence-bound. Legacy sentences show personal synthesis, which signals readiness for the heavier text ahead. PRATHER

71–75 · LEGACY SHARE

“If you're willing, stand and read only your last sentence: ‘Anne’s legacy, to me, is...’ No commentary in between. We’ll let them sit.” 4–5 volunteers. Don't respond between readers: no praise, no applause. After the last one, pause, then “Thank you.” PRATHER

WHY IT MATTERS

The stand-and-share marks the end of the play as an event, not just a page count. Protect its seriousness. PRATHER

75–80 · PREVIEW

“Tomorrow we open our second text. Night is not a play; it is a memoir, written by a survivor named Elie Wiesel who was your age when the events begin. The first pages contain a warning that a whole town refuses to hear.” PRATHER Preview only. Don't start Thursday's content.

COLLECT

Exit tickets. The Day 2 map and today's Theme Builder go back in folders; scholars use every chart from this week, including both, for the Day 5 synthesis. PRATHER Then pack-up and buffer.

IF YOU'RE BEHIND

The exit ticket always happens. Then take fewer legacy readers, but keep the share silent and serious. Keep the 20-second preview.